

Powderhorn Food Community

Food prices go up and corporate profits are highest in history. While we working people struggle in fixed incomes or wages that don't keep pace with the cost of living. Our buying power is dropping.

Powderhorn Coop can help you feed your family by stretching your food budget.

Cooperatives are not going to eliminate nor allow us to ignore the causes of inflation. Yet the coop is a step forward, because it is an organization built around the interests of working people.

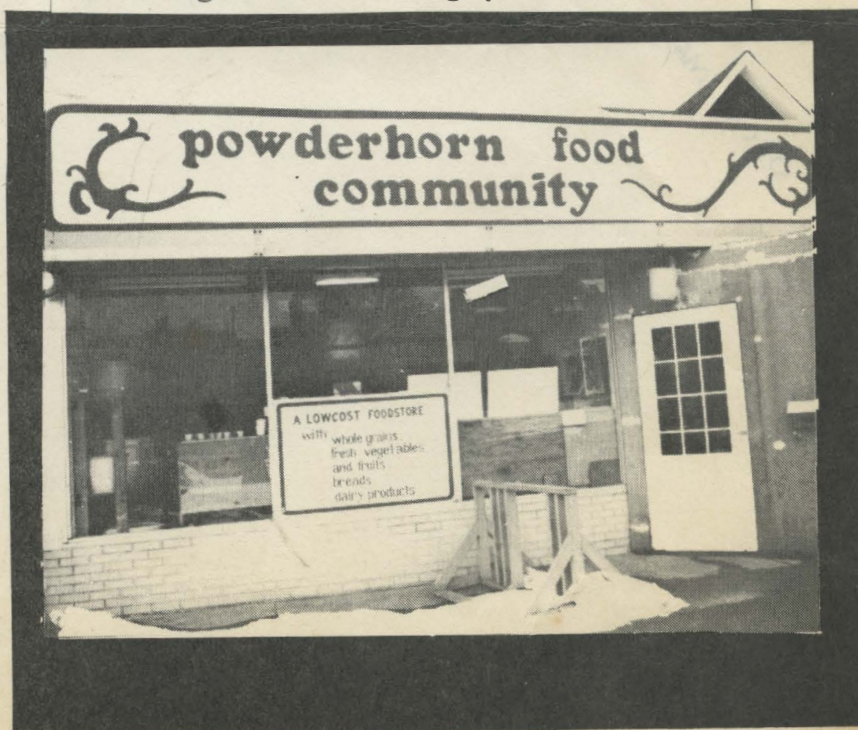

The Coop narrows the gap between low wages and rising prices.

POWDERHORN FOOD COMMUNITY IS CHANGING

In the past Powderhorn coop has been noted for: carrying only pure, whole grain food, often running out of items, closing during store hours, being overly beaurcratic, and having to high a mark-up for shoppers who don't work in the coop.

Powderhorn is changing. Under new leadership and direction Powderhorn Coop is beginning to develop a stronger organization. The food line is being expanded to include more staples, canned goods, meat and household items. The mark-up has been lowered for all shoppers whether they work in the coop or not. Coordinators have been hired to help keep the store stocked and open and to seek ways for the store to better serve the needs of the neighborhood.
